Following table states the behaviours in different categories and mentions the consequences:

1. In-School Suspension – where the child is made to study individually under direct supervision during the school day.

2. Out- of School Suspension – where the child is asked to stay at home for a maximum period of 3 days.

The right to re-appeal – students have the right to re-appeal in case they disagree with the decision or severity of the case reported. The principal shall then hear the re-appeal in all confidentiality and impartially.
